

I am deeply disturbed and concerned by Bob and Madison's comments. As a long-time cyclist I have twice been the victim of random and unprovoked acts of violence while cycling: once I was run off the road and once I was struck by a half-full bottle of beer thrown from a car. It is only chance that kept me from serious harm. I urge FCC to get those thoughtless and ignorant off the air FOREVER and to punish Clear Channel Communications with more than a wrist slap. Thank you.
